42 million Americans grow food in home or community gardens. Many harvest more than they can use, preserve, or give to friends. The excess is composted or just thrown away.

Meanwhile... 1 out of every 6 of their neighbors needs help feeding their family yet can't get healthy fresh produce from a nearby food pantry.

We have the food we need. We just need to use it!

AmpleHarvest.org eliminates food waste and hunger by providing millions of gardeners a digital "pipeline" to over 7,200 local food pantries nationwide. These growers can now share their excess bounty with their neighbors in need for the first time. This is a sustainable and permanent way to help the hungry and the improve the environment.
