

Your agency link to locally grown fresh produce!

AmpleHarvest.org is a free nationwide program that enables home gardeners and commercial growers near you to easily find your agency when they have harvested more than they can use, preserve or give to friends.

- About 8,500 food pantries/banks/closets/shelves and other feeding programs across all 50 states are already registered with more signing up every day.
- Five billion pounds of excess fresh produce grow in gardens nationwide and an ever increasing number of gardeners want to donate the excess to nearby food program across America.
- AmpleHarvest.org is a 501c3 non-profit organization and has received support from many groups including: the USDA, Google, National Gardening Association, numerous faith groups including the National Council of Churches, Garden Writers of America, food/hunger bloggers, Feeding America and many food banks overseeing the pantries.

If your agency is not yet registered at www.AmpleHarvest.org, you are missing the opportunity to receive locally grown freshly harvested produce from area gardeners.

Adding your agency to AmpleHarvest.org is EASY, FAST and FREE.

It can be done quickly online (www.AmpleHarvest.org) or by fax (866-748-3516*). In addition to providing your agency information (even a photo can be included!), you can also list store bought items you most urgently need and update it as needed for donors helping you when the gardening season is over. More information is available at www.AmpleHarvest.org/faq.

Your agency doesn't need additional refrigeration or storage because you can schedule produce donations and client pickup on a same day or next day basis.

Millions of home and community gardeners are eager to reach into their backyards to help their neighbors in need. AmpleHarvest.org helps them find you.

We strongly urge you to visit www.AmpleHarvest.org and register your agency today!
